SALISBURY, N. C., July 15th, 1871 The Old North State is at present the theatre of the most exciting political can vass that ever occurred within its borders. Few people are not conversant with the ruinous measures entailed upon the State by the present constitution-framed as i was by negroes, carpet baggers and poli i she was recklessly plunged into debt, her credit rained and her bonds buck-tered in New York in a manner that was disgrac .fal by the radicals during the administra tion of Gove nor Holden. Her debt that before the war was not more than four teen millions was increased to nearly forty, and the lavish appropriations that made this enormous amount were squan lered and stolen by radica railroad officials and Wall street stock-jobbing operators. Sav eral of these worthies are now nader indictment in the State courts for embezzlement-two of them for as large an amount as seven millions of bonds. The expenses four times the amount required prior to the war by the creation of a large number salaries of all the State officials were in creased one hundred per cent; the numter of judges of the Supreme Court was increased from three to five, with also a township system, at once cumbersome and burdensome, was saddled upon the people : and lastly, the judiciary, instead of being be pressed in the next convention.

For the Journal. LUMBERTON, N. C., July 21st, 1871. Dear Journal :- In your issue of yeswhich the writer expresses astonishment that the authorities of this county do not "order out" blood-hounds to capture the eptance of the amendments prevent any outlaws. The only reason he can think of for this neglect is that so bright an idea has never occurred to them.

If this writer is really a citizen of Robeossible with as without them. We son, he ought to have known that "the n Massichusetts disfrancuise, they tel authorities of Robeson" have for several months been doing everything in their power to procure a pack of blood-hounds by constitutional prerequisites to voting, for this very purpose, but have not been able to find them. The Sheriff advertised in the Wilmington papers for bounds, an in having them ordered out. He knows, att. r ought to know, that there is not a trait- School Committee -T T. George, J.
